

Planet of Our Dreams

In the seeking and the finding
The breaking and the binding
In the sunrise almost blinding there was love
In successes and reverses
These disappointing verses
In whales and mermaid's purses there was love

There was love, you have to understand
There was love, that always got the upper hand
There was love, lo— —ve
The planet of our dreams was built of love

In my making-do and mending
Your outrageous overspending
Where the sky was neverending there was love
In those tired accusations
Rows about my limitations
In sequoias and carnations there was love

There was love, you have to understand
There was love, that always got the upper hand
There was love, lo— —ve
The planet of our dreams was built of love

In the coming and the going
In the learning and the knowing
When the stars were overflowing there was love
In the laughing and the crying
In the living and the dying
While life was multiplying there was love

There was love, you have to understand
There was love, that always got the upper hand
There was love, lo— —ve
The planet of our dreams was built of love
There was love, as predictable as day
There was love, that always sent us on our way
There was love, lo— —ve
The planet of our dreams was built of love
